

Knowing, Praying, Living the Holy Scriptures

“How I have loved thy law, O Lord! The whole day it is my meditation.” (Ps 118:97)

Joshua 7:11

“The people sinned and transgressed the covenant I made with them; for they stole something from what was accursed and put it among their goods.” (OSB)

Just as Israel sins immediately after leaving Egypt—grumbling in the wilderness just after the Red Sea crossing in Exodus 17, and then immediately violating the covenant at Sinai by worshipping the golden calf (Exodus 32)—so Israel’s corporate and covenantal life together with God is threatened immediately after the Conquest of Canaan gets underway.

After God delivers Jericho to Israel, when “the walls come tumbling down,” Israel goes on to suffer a stinging defeat at the city of Ai. It is quickly revealed that someone in the Israelite camp has taken and hidden away some of the spoils from Jericho, all of which was to be “put under the ban” (Gk. anathema; i.e., ceremonially destroyed). An Israelite named Achan is revealed as the culprit and confesses his sin in words strikingly reminiscent of both the 10th Commandment (Exod 20:17) and Eve’s sin in Eden: “I desired them and took them” (Josh 7:21; see Gen 3:6). Achan and his whole family are stoned to death (and burned).

The sin of Achan might seem trivial. But God repeatedly seems to care about things that, from a minimalist “pragmatic” perspective, don’t seem like a “big deal.” What is the problem with keeping some of the spoils of war? Couldn’t those things be put to good use—feeding the poor, adorning holy places and people? Or, why such a concern over one tree in the Garden of Eden? Why would God put it there if He didn’t want us to enjoy it?

Of course, to start, there is the matter of obedience. God’s children must learn to obey, and through this obedience, fix their trust in and find communion with God as Father. But beyond obedience is the reason for God’s regulations to begin with, namely, His providential care unto the salvation of our souls. When we pass through the waters of Baptism, at once beginning a journey in and towards the heavenly Kingdom and beginning the spiritual combat involved in this ascending journey, we are making an absolute break with the spiritual “Egypt/Canaan” that is the fallen world. Yet how often do we find ourselves trying, in even the smallest way, to “return to Egypt,” on the way that we should never again return (Deut 17:16)? How often are we tempted to hide away a little of the Canaan of mammon, false worship, sexual depravity, corrupt speech, etc., in our souls even as we go about, apparently, capturing the territory of the Evil One?

Achan, like Ananias and Sapphira (Acts 5:1-11), is a strong warning to us that our lives are not our own. Sin is never a private matter, and we have the ability to damage not only ourselves but others. As St. Paul says, “See to it that no one comes short of the grace of God; that no root of bitterness springing up causes trouble, and by it many be defiled” (Heb 12:15).

Orthros Gospel: St. John 20:19-31

Epistle: Colossians 3:4-11

Liturgy Gospel: St. Luke 17:12-19

RESURRECTION TROPARION - Tone 6 - When Mary stood at thy grave, looking for thy sacred Body, angelic powers shone above thy revered tomb, and the soldiers who were to keep guard became as dead men. Thou led'st hades captive and wast not tempted thereby; thou didst meet the Virgin and didst give life to the world. O thou who art risen from the dead, O Lord, glory to thee!

APOLYTIKION OF ST. MAKARIOS OF EGYPT - Tone 1 - Thou didst prove to be a citizen of the desert, an angel in the flesh, and a wonderworker, O Makarios, our God-bearing Father. By fasting, vigil, and prayer thou didst obtain heavenly gifts, and thou healest the sick and the souls of them that have recourse to thee with faith. Glory to Him that hath given thee strength. Glory to Him that hath crowned thee. Glory to Him that worketh healings for all through thee.
